

CALLING ALL ARTISTS

Please join us in sharing our concerns and solutions to Deep Sea Oil and Gas Drilling, by entering the “OIL ON CANVAS” art exhibition, Friday 10 January 2014, for opening night of our national OIL FREE FUTURE Summit weekend.

All media. All works for sale. If you would like to donate some or all of the proceeds for our work to help stop Deep Sea Drilling and towards an oil free future, they will be gratefully received.

Works will be exhibited at the Community Gallery, 26 Princes Street, Dunedin and later at Gallery on Blueskin, Waitati, Otago.

Texan oil company, Anadarko, is planning to drill an exploratory deep sea well 60km from Taiaroa Head this January, at about the time of our Summit weekend.

Oil Free Otago say the risk of deep sea drilling is too great and the so-called benefits do not stack up.

Oil on Canvas

The OIL FREE FUTURE Summit will bring Kiwis, international specialists and celebrities together to discuss why and how we can stop Deep Sea Drilling in our oceans, and present workable options to build an oil free future for our kids.
